Hearings Held For 4 Men In Narcotics Case

Four Springfield men, arrested by the Circleville Police Department June 25 on eight narcotics charges, appeared in Municipal Court Monday morning for a preliminary hearing.

Steven Warfield, 20, had cases continued by acting judge Allan Berger on two charges including illegal purchasing of exempt narcotics and illegal possession of narcotics for sale.

Warfield was bound over to the September session of the Pickaway County grand jury on two other charges. He was bound over on $5000 bond for illegal possession of narcotics and on $5000 bond for keeping and dispensing narcotics from a vehicle.

Maximum sentence on the dispensing charge is a $10,000 fine plus 2-15 years in jail. A sentence of 2-15 years and $10,000 fine is the maximum on the possession charge and a 10-25 year jail sentence is the maximum on the possession for sale charge.

THE other three men, Keith Warfield, 18, Theodore E. Elliot, 24, and Charles E. Beverly, 19 were charged with conspiring with Steven Warfield and possession of narcotic drugs and were bound over to the grand jury on $5000 bond.

An Ashville attorney representing the four men in the pre-trial, Steven Gussler, had Beverly's bond reduced to $1000 bond on the basis that the Ohio State Legislature had passed a law that made possession of narcotics a misdemeanor with a maximum penalty of a $500 fine and six months in jail.

Keith Warfield was also named in a second case by the local police charging him with attempting to obtain exempt narcotics.

ROY Huffer was acting City Solicitor.

The four men were picked up by the Circleville police on a tip that they attempted to buy a quantity of exempt cough syrup at Bingman's Drugs and did purchase some at Revco Drugs.

The Warfield brothers, Beverly and Elliot were stopped with 21.13 grams (about 3-5 of an ounce) of an uncut "marijuana like substance" and six full bottles of cough syrup.

Senate To Vote On Pentagon Buying Policies

'Fly-Before-Buy'
Amendment Hit
By Goldwater

WASHINGTON (AP) — Amid charges defense procurement is wasteful and inefficient, the Senate votes today on whether to hold the Pentagon to its "fly before you buy" policy.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., joined others in vowing to fight the measure "to the last fiber of my being."

And Secretary of Defense Melvin Laird called it "premature."

The amendment to the $19.2 billion military procurement bill was offered by Sen. William Proxmire, the Senate's most persistent critic of what he views as waste in military spending.

The Wisconsin Democrat hopes to compel the Pentagon to implement the purchasing guidelines proposed recently by the Fitzhugh Commission. At the very last, he wants an explanation when the policy is not followed.

"Fly-before-you-buy is a very sound notion that before we move into production of a weapons system it should be thoroughly tested so that defects have been corrected, so that we may know how much the production cost is likely to be and so that ... the performance would be adequate," Proxmire told the Senate.

Problems arise because the defense department ignores the policy whenever it sees fit, he added.

He said his amendment would require the Pentagon to file a report with the appropriate congressional committees whenever they depart from the "fly-before-you-buy" principal.

Goldwater has said he fears the amendment could be used as legal rope to bind the Pentagon in cases of urgency where a weapons system is vitally needed to protect national security.

Proxmire said Goldwater has nothing to fear.

"The amendment does not prohibit the authorization or funding of the production of a weapons system if the service has failed to follow the 'fly-before-you-buy' conditions," Proxmire said.

Reds Launch Space Probe To Venus

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union today launched an unmanned space probe to explore the planet Venus.

Tass said the spaceship, which it called the "automatic interplanetary station Venus 7," would "continue the exploration of the planet Venus, which was carried out earlier by Soviet automatic stations."

It said the spaceship was launched at 8:38 a.m. Moscow time — 1:38 a.m. EDT — and together with the final stage of the rocket carrier was put into an interim orbit of the earth.

At 9:59 Moscow time, the report continued, the engine of the final stage was switched on for just over four minutes to boost the rocket out of orbit and on its way.

Tass said an EDT — Moscow time — 5 a.m. EDT — Venus 7 was more than 25,000 miles from earth.

"Venus 7 was put into a trajectory close to the present one," the Soviet news agency said.

"All the systems and scientific equipment on board the station are functioning normally. The flight is controlled by the long-distance space communication center."

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. (AP) — The search for Angela Davis broadened today after a federal attorney confirmed that the self-proclaimed Communist and former university philosophy instructor bought the shotgun that killed Judge Harold J. Haley.

The judge and three other men were killed Aug. 8 during a gunbattle that followed a courtroom kidnapping at San Rafael, across the Golden Gate from San Francisco.

Miss Davis is charged with one count of murder and five counts of kidnapping under a California law which holds anyone who aids a major crime as guilty as the direct participants.

Jerrold Ladar, assistant U.S. attorney, said Sunday a serial number check showed the shotgun was purchased at a San Francisco pawn shop Aug. 5 by the former UCLA instructor who the regents refused to rehire.

The search for Miss Davis ranged from the West Coast to Birmingham, Ala., and abroad after Ladar disclosed that Miss Davis, 26, had a passport.

Early reports about the possible whereabouts of the attractive black educator with a high Afro hairdo had included Canada. Ladar said a passport was not needed to enter Canada, but would be necessary to go from there to any other country.

President Has High Hopes For Arms Race Slowdown

WASHINGTON (AP) — Claiming several bright, new prospects for a stable world peace, the Nixon administration has expressed renewed enthusiasm for a slowdown in the weapons race with the Soviet Union.

The key issue of the joint strategic Arms Limitations Talks is a proposal to mutually abolish or curtail deployment of antiballistic missiles, they said.

Administration spokesmen said the Safeguard ABM system had been a major bargaining tool at the Vienna talks, which just ended a four-month round last week. The negotiations resume in Helsinki this November.

They said the Soviet Union had expressed most interest in stopping development of the ABM. The United States has offered to do so if the Soviets would limit their large SS-9 missiles and cutback their ABM.

At a weekend briefing for editors and broadcasters in New Orleans during President Nixon's visit, the officials said Nixon's promise last year of negotiation rather than confrontation had panned out as a turning point in postwar policy.

The spokesmen, who declined identification and prohibited release of their comments until Sunday, also said the conventional ground war in southern South Vietnam is virtually ended.

They said security in that part of the nation was the best it's been since 1964.

While noting that guerrilla warfare continues and the Paris peace talks remain fruitless, they said the strengthened South Vietnamese Army now should be able to meet on its own the aggression in the southern region.

Generally, the Vietnam war was said to be winding down, and the possibility was still held open for a negotiated settlement.

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP) — Pope Paul VI says delinquency and the use of drugs have increased to the proportions of a "social epidemic."

Air Force Lieutenant Held In 2 Columbus Bombings

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The arraignment of Air Force 1st Lt. William L. Harris, arrested following the bombing of two suburban department stores, will probably be held later today, according to Whitehall police.

Police said the matter was being discussed with city officials.

Earlier police said arraignment would be delayed because of Harris' broken leg, but Police Chief Ralph A. Walker said this morning "We hope to arraign him today."

Walker said he believes the bombings were arranged by one man walking alone.

Harris' leg was broken when

Roger Penwell, 23, of Columbus, ran over him with a motorcycle as Harris, armed with a small foreign-made pistol, tried to flee the scene of one of the bombings.

Witnesses said Penwell was fired at twice, but kept after the gunman. He ran Harris about 100 yards from the explosion site.

Walker said Penwell has asked that his address be kept secret.

The two explosions, one at a Penney's store, the other 20 minutes later at a Zayre's store, injured at least 20 persons who were treated at local hospitals.

Of the 20, only two remain under hospital care. They are Mrs. Luva Hardy, 57, and her granddaughter, Marsha Turner, 16. The two, suffering multiple lacerations, were listed in fair condition.

Others, with minor injuries were treated by emergency squadmen and released.

Police said Harris revealed the location of three additional explosive charges, set to detonate about 7 p.m., the time of the first explosion.

The three bombs were disarmed by Columbus bomb squadmen before they exploded. Faulty wiring was reported by the reason the other bombs failed to go off on schedule.

Whitehall police said the bombs were apparently intended as diversions for a robbery attempt.

They said Harris tried to rob the Zayre's store after the blast, but got no money. Harris was captured in the Zayre's store parking lot.

Another Commission To Probe KSU Riot

KENT, Ohio (AP) — Another investigation—this by the President's Commission on Campus Unrest—will begin this week into the May 4 shooting deaths of four Kent State University students during a confrontation with the Ohio National Guard.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation, the American Civil Liberties Union, the Ohio National Guard, the Ohio Highway Patrol, local law enforcement officials and a campus organization already have conducted investigations into the shootings.

Christian, press secretary to President Lyndon Johnson, said that by late 1968 the question facing the administration was no longer a choice between hawk and dove, or military and civilian.

"The question was how to resolve a war that no longer had enough support, in the Congress or abroad in the land, to carry it to a conclusion through the established strategy."

Christian's book, "The President Steps Down," concludes "Ho Chi Minh had won the battle of perseverance."

"The greatest misjudgment in Washington was not in military tactics," Christian wrote, and "not in underestimating the enemy, but in over-estimating the American people."

Corn Blight Found In Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A "rather severe" case of a new variety of southern leaf blight has been reported in southern Ohio, with traces uncovered in some north central sections of the state as well.

The fungus, seldom seen in the state before, attacks the corn ears, leaves and stalks causing serious deterioration, according to Lansing Williams, chairman of the plant pathology department of the Ohio Agriculture Research and Development Center in Wooster.

The blight has caused heavy losses in many southern states already this season.

Williams said the fungus strain can be controlled by chemical sprays, but added that timing was important.

The plant parts must be covered with the spray before wind-borne fungus spores are deposited, Williams said, or else control attempts are worthless.

Williams and Gordon Ryder, Ohio State University extension agronomist, both agreed that certain corn hybrids, especially those containing Texas Cytoplasm, were more susceptible to fungus attacks than others.

Ryder said, however, that control costs are in most cases beyond the reach of corn farmers producing for cash grain or livestock feeding.

He added that only producers of hybrid seed corn or sweet corn would have the required spraying equipment for control of the fungus.

Staging Areas For North Viet Drive Pounded

SAIGON (AP) — The United States today committed its entire Pacific force of B52 bombers against the new Communist offensive in the northernmost provinces of South Vietnam.

Nearly 100 of the big bombers from Guam, Okinawa and Thailand dropped some 3,000 tons of bombs on North Vietnamese supply and staging areas on both sides of the Laotian border during the past 48 hours.

The raids were the heaviest in two years in the sector. Informal sources said clouds prevented any accurate assessment of the bomb damage, but several secondary explosions indicated hits on ammunition stores.

The U.S. Command ordered the B52s into full force after attacks Sunday on seven allied bases guarding approaches to the populous coastal lowlands of Quang Tri and Thua Thien provinces.

The U.S. Command also announced that three American helicopters were shot down on the Laotian side of the border Saturday, two of them as they tried to rescue the crew of the first chopper downed. Headquarters said one American was killed, two were missing and five were wounded in the crash.

Official sources said they believe the enemy pressure against the allied bases along the Laotian border and the Demilitarized Zone is part of the preparation for a big push against the Saigon government's pacification program in the lowlands.

North Vietnamese gunners late Sunday slammed nearly 200 rounds of rockets, mortars and recoilless rifle shells into five allied bases along the DMZ. It was the heaviest attack in that region in more than a year.

At the same time the North Vietnamese for the eighth day kept up attacks on two allied fire bases—O'Reilly and Barnett—some 25 miles south of the DMZ along the Laotian border. Three ground fights were reported around the bases.

Casualties and damage were reported light over-all, but one South Vietnamese artillery base, Fuller, four miles south of the DMZ, was hard hit. Seventy rounds from 120mm mortars slammed into it, blowing up an ammunition dump. A score or more South Vietnamese troops were killed, and as any more were wounded.

The U.S. Command said several American troops were killed in the other shelling attacks, but none was wounded.

Casualties reported in the ground fighting included 18 North Vietnamese, two Americans and three South Vietnamese killed, and 12 Americans and seven South Vietnamese wounded. South Vietnamese troops from Fire Base O'Reilly also uncovered an enemy stockpile of more than 200 rocket and mortar rounds two miles from the base.

Gardner Plans To Form New Political Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — John W. Gardner, former secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, says he hopes to channel the disillusionment with both major parties into a new political action group, "The Common Cause."

"I have my eye on creating some consequences which will alter the atmosphere in which every presidential election between now and the year 2,000 is conducted," he said Sunday.

Gardner, now chairman of the Urban Coalition, said the present political system includes some good men, "but they are smothered, they are frustrated, they are chewed up ..."

"I think that things have become so bad that a lot of people are ready to move—ready to act constructively."

U.S. Policy In Asia Puzzles, Worries Far East Nations

By SPENCER DAVIS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration's year-old policy aimed at shrinking the nation's military posture and foreign aid programs has created anxiety, bewilderment and skepticism throughout Asia, diplomatic sources say.

Japan, meanwhile, is said to have emerged as a reluctant beneficiary of the so-called Nixon Doctrine, which was spelled out by the President on Guam in August of last year.

Ranking Asian and American officials in 10 countries from Japan to Pakistan commented on interviews on the effect of the doctrine.

There is agreement that Tokyo's prestige and influence has soared as non-Communist Asia, faced with declining American involvements, looks to Japan to fill whatever gaps the departing Americans may leave.

The prospect of a greatly expanded role has somewhat alarmed Japanese leaders who now are urging the United States to go slow in carrying out the deAmericanization program in Southeast and Northeast Asia.

The Japanese would much prefer to be strictly an economic partner while the United States continues to shoulder the major security burden for the region.

American officials—stung by congressional criticism that U.S. sacrifices have succeeded in making Southeast Asia safe for Japanese investment—are calling on the government of Prime Minister Eisaku Sato to take on more responsibility, particularly in stepped up aid to Vietnam and Cambodia.

The Nixon Doctrine has been met by considerable skepticism in India. It is not clear, say Indian authorities, exactly what is meant by the Guam declaration.

On one hand, there is the reduction announced for U.S. ground forces in Vietnam, Korea, Thailand and the Philippines.

On the other, they say, it is the U.S. desire to get these countries to build up their own ground combat forces, in pursuance of whatever international policy the United States wishes.

Consequently, the Indians argue, there is no American withdrawal under this interpretation, but merely a change in the composition of U.S. and allied forces.

India's foreign policy makers, who keep an uneasy eye on mainland China, hope and expect that Hanoi will be the most powerful single factor in any grouping of Southeast Asian nations after the Vietnam war is ended.

The Indians say Hanoi is willing to allow South Vietnam a separate existence, although it may not last for very long—perhaps five or ten years.

The Indians say they would go along with a coalition government imposed on Saigon from the outside, because it would be impossible to hold free elections under the present conditions.

In Vietnam, the Indian view of a coalition is vehemently rejected on the ground that the government cannot choose to share its power without popular sanctions.

Christian, press secretary to President Lyndon Johnson, said that by late 1968 the question facing the administration was no longer a choice between hawk and dove, or military and civilian.

"The question was how to resolve a war that no longer had enough support, in the Congress or abroad in the land, to carry it to a conclusion through the established strategy."

Christian's book "The President Steps Down," concludes "Ho Chi Minh had won the battle of perseverance."

"The greatest misjudgment in Washington was not in military tactics," Christian wrote, and "not in underestimating the enemy, but in over-estimating the American people."

The guerrilla raids along the Jordan, Syrian and Lebanese front were termed only minor violations of the ceasefire and for mostly political reasons. The critical front remains the Suez line between Israel and Egypt, they said.

Eban Raps Laird Stand On Violations

JERUSALEM (AP) — Foreign Minister Abba Eban strongly criticized U.S. Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird today and said the Israeli government has definite proof that Egypt violated the new cease-fire long after it went into effect at midnight Aug. 7.

Laird said in a television interview Sunday that Egypt may have positioned Soviet missiles nearer the Suez canal after the cease-fire, but that these charges were difficult to prove or disprove.

Laird added that he did not think it served any purpose to discuss what occurred during the 12 hours before and after the cease-fire.

"We should expect at least a frank acknowledgement of violations," Eban told a news conference.

He said Israel must insist on the "strictest precision in dealing with such complaints" and therefore it was not "immaculate" whether such violations were 12 hours before or after the cease-fire.

Jerusalem has complained twice to the United Nations—the second time on Aug. 13—that the Egyptians deployed SAM2 and SAM3 missiles in the 20-mile standstill zone along the canal.

Others, with minor injuries were treated by emergency squadmen and released.

Police said Harris revealed the location of three additional explosive charges, set to detonate about 7 p.m., the time of the first explosion.

The three bombs were disarmed by Columbus bomb squadmen before they exploded. Faulty wiring was reported by the reason the other bombs failed to go off on schedule.

Whitehall police said the bombs were apparently intended as diversions for a robbery attempt.

They said Harris tried to rob the Zayre's store after the blast, but got no money. Harris was captured in the Zayre's store parking lot.

Corn Blight Found In Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A "rather severe" case of a new variety of southern leaf blight has been reported in southern Ohio, with traces uncovered in some north central sections of the state as well.

The fungus, seldom seen in the state before, attacks the corn ears, leaves and stalks causing serious deterioration, according to Lansing Williams, chairman of the plant pathology department of the Ohio Agriculture Research and Development Center in Wooster.

The blight has caused heavy losses in many southern states already this season.

Williams said the fungus strain can be controlled by chemical sprays, but added that timing was important.

The plant parts must be covered with the spray before windborne fungus spores are deposited, Williams said, or else control attempts are worthless.

Williams and Gordon Ryder, Ohio State University extension agronomist, both agreed that certain corn hybrids, especially those containing Texas Sytoplasm, were more susceptible to fungus attacks than others.

Ryder said, however, that control costs are in most cases beyond the reach of corn farmers producing for cash grain or livestock feeding.

He added that only producers of hybrid seed corn or sweet corn would have the required spraying equipment for control of the fungus.

U.S. People Spineless?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Failure of the American people to persevere handed Ho Chi Minh a victory in Vietnam, former White House aide George Christian said in a book published today.

Staging Areas For North Viet Drive Pounded

SAIGON (AP) — The United States today committed its entire Pacific force of B52 bombers against the new Communist offensive in the northernmost provinces of South Vietnam.

Nearly 100 of the big bombers from Guam, Okinawa and Thailand dropped some 3,000 tons of bombs on North Vietnamese supply and staging areas on both sides of the Laotian border during the past 48 hours.

The raids were the heaviest in two years in the sector. Informants said clouds prevented any accurate assessment of the bomb damage, but several secondary explosions indicated hits on ammunition stores.

The U.S. Command ordered the B52s out in full force after attacks Sunday on seven allied bases guarding approaches to the populous coastal lowlands of Quang Tri and Thua Thien provinces.

The U.S. Command also announced that three American helicopters were shot down on the Laotian side of the border Saturday, two of them as they tried to rescue the crew of the first chopper downed. Headquarters said one American was killed, two were missing and five were wounded in the crashes.

Official sources said they believe the enemy pressure against the allied bases along the Laotian border and the Demilitarized Zone is part of the preparation for a big push against the Saigon government's pacification program in the lowlands.

North Vietnamese gunners late Sunday slammed nearly 200 rounds of rockets, mortars and recoilless rifle shells into five allied bases along the DMZ. It was the heaviest attack in that region in more than a year.

At the same time the North Vietnamese for the eighth day kept up attacks on two allied fire bases—O'Reilly and Barnett—some 25 miles south of the DMZ along the Laotian border. Three ground fights were reported around the bases.

Casualties and damage were reported light over-all, but one South Vietnamese artillery base, Fuller, four miles south of the DMZ, was hard hit. Seventy rounds from 120mm mortars slammed into it, blowing up an ammunition dump. A score or more South Vietnamese troops were killed, and as many more were wounded.

The U.S. Command said several Americans were killed in the other shelling attacks, but none was wounded.

Casualties reported in the ground fighting included 18 North Vietnamese, two Americans and three South Vietnamese killed, and 12 Americans and seven South Vietnamese wounded. South Vietnamese troops from Fire Base O'Reilly also uncovered an enemy stockpile of more than 200 rocket and mortar rounds two miles from the base.

Gardner Plans To Form New Political Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — John W. Gardner, former secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, says he hopes to channel the disillusionment with both major parties into a new political action group, "The Common Cause."

"I have my eye on creating some consequences which will alter the atmosphere in which every presidential election between now and the year 2,000 is conducted," he said Sunday.

Gardner, now chairman of the Urban Coalition, said the present political system includes some good men, "but they are smothered, they are frustrated, they are chewed up . . ."

"I think that things have become so bad that a lot of people are ready to move—ready to act constructively."

U.S. Policy . .

tional Liberation Front could participate, however, has been offered.

The Saigon government has taken a matter-of-fact attitude toward the Nixon doctrine and the vietnamization program.

Officials point out that South Vietnam has built up its armed forces from 900,000 to close to 1.1 million men who are supplied with guns and ammunition by the U.S.

"But who is going to pay for the salary and the maintenance of these men when the level of U.S. financial aid remains static" it is asked.

Decreasing U.S. forces mean less revenue at a time when Saigon must spend more on combat operations and they expect the U.S. to pay the difference.

At the same time, high American officials have pointed out that Japan is selling Vietnam three times as much in consumer goods as the United States.

U.S. officials have asked Japan to do more for Vietnam's economic rehabilitation than so far offered.

The most anxious American ally under the Nixon Doctrine has been South Korea, where the government fears that a reduction of U.S. forces will lead North Korean Premier Kim Il Sung to miscalculate and attempt to reunify Korea by force.

American officials see little chance that Kim would risk such a move unless an opportunity such as the lapse of the present government or its replacement by a weak regime suddenly offered an opportunity with very little risk.

"It is up to us to see that this does not happen," commented one American diplomat. Nevertheless, South Koreans want to see their armed forces modernized and their air defenses and sea defenses greatly improved before the United States starts to withdraw the first 20,000 of some 61,000 troops.

The angriest reaction to current U.S. policy is in Thailand. According to Foreign Minister Thanat Khoman "uneasiness does not come from implementation of the Nixon Doctrine. The uneasiness is caused by the present struggle between your executive and the legislative branches and the erratic behavior of some of the congressional elements."

"Many people in the world, not only in Asia, question the steadiness of U.S. policy," he said.

American authorities say there will be further scaling down of U.S. forces in Thailand as units are identified that are no longer required.

In Japan, Japanese leaders are speaking of "task-sharing" with the United States maintaining its bilateral security commitments with Korea, Taiwan and the Philippines and Japan's role contributing to social stability.

American officials say Japan also is in a position to provide limited military assistance not in the form of guns and weapons but in the form of such common use items as trucks, communication equipment and heavy construction equipment.

Family Health Care

Millions of people believe chiropractic to be a comprehensive health care service. Millions of people who do not believe in chiropractic science at all, or only for use in certain disorders. This is not at all unusual. Even today, millions of people do not believe in God. During the lifetime of Jesus Christ the majority refused to believe his teaching. Many who saw Him perform miracles or healing still refused to believe. Doctors of chiropractic cannot repeat the healing miracles performed by Jesus, but sick people get well in chiropractic offices daily.

Did you know that prompt chiropractic care minimizes the pain, loss of time, and loss of income from on-the-job accidents and injuries? . . . that many industrial corporations employ doctors of chiropractic on their staffs?

Presented in the public interest for better health through chiropractic under the auspices of the Central Ohio Chiropractic Association.

Study Of American Children Set By White House Panel

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 29-year-old bachelor dentist planning the White House Conference on Children says he hopes it will "stir up controversy, get people excited."

In preparation for the Dec. 13-18 conference, Dr. William S. Lieber said in an interview, 25 forums of study groups have begun "the most intensive study of the American child ever made."

Each group, made of up 15 experts from such fields as medicine, law, education and the social sciences as well as young people and parents, is to come up with two specific recommendations for the 4,000 convention delegates to consider.

"We don't want experts sitting around reading papers to one another," Lieber said. "Our emphasis will be on action."

Since the conference "should be a reflection of our times," he said many recommendations probably will center on individual rights and identity.

Subjects to be considered by the forums include child development and the mass media, myths of education, family planning, children and prejudice, the rights of children and—one Lieber says there's a lot of interest in—the child advocate.

"Children have no constituency, you know. They have no political power," he said. "Maybe we need someone to speak up for them."

There have been six previous White House childrens conferences—one every 10 years since Theodore Roosevelt called the first in 1909.

"Never has this . . . conference come at a time of greater national questioning," President Nixon said in announcing it last December.

Lieber is executive assistant to Stephen Hess, whom Nixon appointed national chairman of the White House Conference on Children and Youth.

As director of the children's activities division, he is in charge of preparations for the convention which will consider issues concerning children up to the age of 13. A conference on older youths will be held in February.

Mt. Sterling Plant To Employ 30

The Mt. Sterling plant of Thompson Industries Company, under construction, will employ 30 persons upon completion, it was announced today by James P. Schwartz, vice president of operations.

Thompson Industries Company, a division of Dart Industries Inc., is one of the country's leading manufacturers of disposable polystyrene foam cups and food containers. Thompson also manufactures Styroclear plastic glasses and lids for its containers. Production at the Mt. Sterling plant will include these thermofomed lids, as well as Styroclear plastic glasses. This plant will serve as a feeder plant for lids to six Eastern foam cup plants.

Thompson Industries Company first made inquiries into the possibility of a plant location in Mt. Sterling in May, 1970. The decision to proceed with plant construction and operation resulted from the continued interest and cooperation of Mt. Sterling businessmen Robert Webber, Bill Barrett and Dean Porter, according to Schwartz.

The Mt. Sterling plant has been designed with a capability of doubling in size and capacity within its existing facility, Schwartz explained. The present growth indicates this expansion could take place within the next several years. Completion of the plant is anticipated for December, 1970.

Army 'Old Guard' Still Uses Horses

FT. MYER, Va. (AP) — The last horse soldiers in the U.S. Army nurture the tradition of boots and saddle in this venerable post nestled in Arlington National Cemetery.

Their chief duty is to carry soldiers to honored graves in the cemetery of heroes across the Potomac River from Washington.

Leafully matched horses draw a sleek black caisson through the hills that were once Robert E. Lee's plantation to a serene slope. The creak of leather and clasp of hoofs subside, and a flag-draped coffin is hoisted from the gun carriage.

For the computer age soldier this funeral ride may be the only brush with the bygone dash and splendor of cavalry and saber. It is a fitting and moving tribute to the military man.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Match Fiance 'Joke For Joke'

DEAR ABBY: I am going to marry a real great guy. I suspected there was something wrong with one of his eyes, but he never talked about it, so I never really knew what it was.

Well, a little while ago he told me that when he was a small boy a neighbor kid accidentally shot it out with a BB gun and he had an artificial eye put in. Abby, it looks so real, nobody would ever know it was artificial. Now that he has told me, it seems to have built his courage up, and he takes his eye out in the evening and wears an eye patch. I think the artificial eye looks better than the eye patch, but the whole thing gives me the creeps.

One night he had a few drinks and he took his artificial eye out in front of some strangers and a lady fainted.

Do you think after we're married I will get more used to this? I'd like to tell him how I feel. Should I?

SQUEAMISH IN N.Y.

DEAR SQUEAMISH: Yes, you'll probably get more used to it, but tell him anyway. And since your fiance is such a great comedian, find out if he can take it as well as dish it out.

Get a set of phony dentures, and the next time he removes his eye, you remove your "dentures." (Sort of an "eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth" arrangement.)

DEAR ABBY: I am married to a man who is too good for his own good. Everybody takes advantage of "Good Old Hank." Especially his family. They have used him all his life. They borrow a few dollars from him and forget to pay it back. When they need some work done for free-Hank is the first one they call, and he goes running like it's an honor to do them a favor.

What is worse, we have a married son who is the same kind of a sap. Only it's his wife's family who runs him. He is always helping her father, or uncles, or brothers, also for free. Fix this, Hank, that, or build something. Junior never complains, either. He's crazy. Just like his father.

I worry one day that these big-hearted boobs will drop dead in their tracks from overwork. I wish I knew a way to help them see the light.

LOTS OF PROBLEMS

DEAR LOTS: I have some good news for you. You don't have any problems. Those big-hearted "boobs" might enjoy doing things for their relatives. And quit worrying. More people have dropped dead from worry than from work.

DEAR ABBY: I, too, am the wife of an airline pilot, and mor mansion-a riderless black horse, with boots reversed in stirrups following to symbolize the fallen warrior.

Another horse with empty saddle followed Abraham Lincoln's remains to the Capitol's Rotunda where the slain chief lay in state.

The caisson procession has borne Franklin D. Roosevelt, Herbert Hoover, Douglas MacArthur, Dwight D. Eisenhower and a host of lesser known soldiers, sailors, airmen and Marines.

The full-honor funeral is accorded presidents, former presidents, commissioned military personnel senior to the rank of warrant officer and certain prominent civilians who have served in the armed forces.

The 30 soliders and 28 mounts of the Caisson Platoon, 1st Battalion, 3rd Infantry-the "Old Guard" Division which also provides sentries for the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier-take part in an average of two military funerals a day.

A team of six horses hitched in pairs-matched grays one week and blacks the next-pulls the caissons, which are replicas of a 1918 model built to carry 75 millimeter cannon.

All six horses are saddled but only the near-side, or left, horses are mounted, a tradition from the day of horse-drawn artillery when one horse of each pair carried provisions.

The sergeant in charge of the detail precedes the caisson, riding an unhitched horse. All riders are in dress blue uniforms with riding breeches, shiny black boots and sparkling spurs.

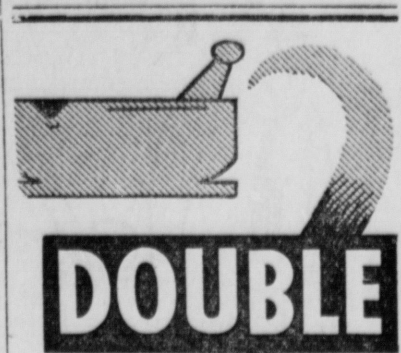

The platoon, which includes a stablemaster, blacksmith and saddlers, is the only active Army unit authorized to use horses. It takes three to six months to train an infantryman in the requisit equestrian skills.

The mounts are quartered in a long, red brick stable on picturesque Ft. Myer, which dates back to the Civil War. They are all light draft geldings and most come from Oklahoma or Texas.

In addition to funerals the caisson platoon takes part in historical ceremonies and special military pageants.

In retirement ceremonies the honored soldier rides in the unit's brougham coach or the tally-ho wagon. When a soldier of the Old Guard marries, the bride and groom leave the chapel in the coach.

Sands Of Summer

This is the time of year when a number of families begin their last-minute summer vacations, keeping one eye on the calendar. School openings are only days away.

Suddenly all the things planned for the summer and still undone are beginning to pile up. Even nature is uncooperative, shortening noticeably the daylight hours.

Relax. There may yet be time for most of the activities dreamed of last spring. All it takes is some more definite planning, a firmer commitment and the realization that no one ever accomplishes everything he sets out to do in the summer months.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — Familiar names and faces have been disappearing from Wall Street and oldtimers can't help but think of the 1930s.

Five member firms of the New York Stock Exchange are in the process of being liquidated because they couldn't meet capital requirements, another already has been liquidated, and last week five more candidates were added to the list.

Moreover, many firms have been forced into the arms of more well-to-do suitors, strictly marriages of convenience with stronger firms, dictated solely by financial considerations. Other firms have had frightening confrontations with illiquidity.

This has been the greatest shakeout since the Great Depression, but there the comparison may end. The remaining firms, we are told, will be stronger for having battled their way through the crises of recent years.

At first the problems resulted from an avalanche of orders that brokers were unable to handle efficiently. Now, in an ironic flip-flop, the problem is a lack of volume.

Last year, the NYSE estimated, a daily volume of 12 million shares was needed for member firms to break even. Volume averaged 11.4 million. The break-even point this year is lower, but not as low as volume, which fell to 10.7 million.

This past week the crisis deepened, for only 38.8 million shares were traded for the entire week, or an average of only 7.7 million. And in the previous week the volume was only 40.6 million.

Trading interest simply isn't responding to efforts, and some well known firms are going further into the red than anyone could have contemplated. Through April, the NYSE said, 80 per cent of retail houses surveyed lost money. It could be worse now and volume continues to recede.

Without doubt, some of the failures on Wall Street and other financial streets across America are not to mismanagement. It was an easy ride astride a galloping economy during the 1960s, but this was the time to put houses in order. Now with crisis piled on crisis, there isn't enough money to do the job.

It's a good thing Americans don't maintain a grudge forever. Exactly 156 years ago — on Aug. 24, 1814, British troops set fire to the United States Capitol (originally the Congress House (then called the President's House).

Burning of the Executive Mansion sort of became a blessing in disguise. Repaired, it was painted snow white and became the architectural gem admired by the whole world — the White House.

When a Keelby, England, housewife, opened a hen's egg she found a 1968 shilling inside. Fair enough — a shilling for shelling.

The California Senate voted against permitting the state's Fish and Game Department to kill wild burros who threatened the food supply of bighorn sheep. Seems the little donkeys will get the last hehew after all.

A 350-pound South African claims a record after downing 50 bananas in 10 minutes. Somehow, this feat doesn't appeal to us.

Chocolate sales in Britain have dropped 25 tons in a year. That must leave a dark brown taste in the mouths of candy makers.

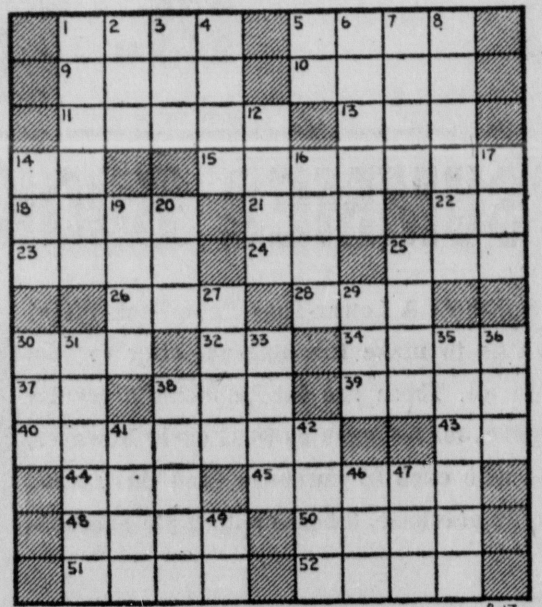

Missouri's Meramec Caverns, which sold for $30,000 in 1939 are now estimated worth $3 million. These days even things that go down go up.

PICASSO went to a cabinetmaker near his chateau in Aix-en-Provence and ordered a mahogany chest made to fit into an alcove in his dressing room. He seized a piece of paper on the desk to make a sketch of exactly what he had in mind, then asked the cabinetmaker what the chest was going to cost him. "Not a sou," the cabinetmaker assured him, carefully smoothing out the piece of paper. "I ask only that you put your signature on this sketch."

One of those dedicated high school students has been button-holing commuters at a suburban station every morning to inquire, "What have YOU done recently to further the cause of peace?" One commuter answered sheepishly, "I fear not very much." "That's regrettable," nodded the high school student. "May I ask what kind of work you do?" The commuter answered, "I work at the U.N."

"Bopping your bride over the noggin with a lead pipe just isn't done any longer in Colorado," said a judge. "Ten years in the cooler to learn better manners." "But, Your Honor," protested the defendant, "it wasn't no lead pipe. It was a garden spade." "A spade, eh?" reflected the judge. "In that case we'll make the sentence TWENTY years. Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

One of our sons has attacks of asthma. It is suspected that he is allergic to dust. How can we possibly keep his room free of dust when the air all around us is so polluted?

Mrs. A.W.R., Illinois
Dear Mrs. R.: The truth of what you say is so obvious that I hardly know where to begin. In a recent column, I wrote of pollution talk by politicians wanting to get on the vote-getting bandwagon by this new-fangled lead to popularity. So far, all that happens is that they exhale their own voluminous gasses as they point to the smokestacks belching the filth that surrounds us.

The asthmatic child pays a special penalty for this disgraceful neglect when actually, modern technology could clean up this mess in a year.

A few suggestions may be helpful. Use non-allergic material to cover pillows and mattresses. Rubberized material rather than dust-collecting upholstered fabrics are an advantage.

Avoid feather and kapok pillows. It has even been suggested that foam rubber pillows may be a contributing factor to asthmatic attacks because mold can collect on foam rubber, especially when it is damp. If used cover them tightly.

Linoleum on the floor is not as dust-collecting as rugs. Stuffed animals tend to collect dust and should be washed frequently. As you have undoubtedly found out, it is virtually impossible to make a house dustproof. However, there now are some excellent electrostatic air filters which seem to be effective.

I have warned many families not to make a sudden change to a new climate in the hope that this will be their salvation. Far too often, such a drastic move is made only to find that dust and other factors that cause asthma continue in the new geographical area.

It is wiser to test out a new climate for a short while to find out if your child will be free of these asthmatic attacks before making a permanent move.

It is most unusual that dust is the only offending substance. A thorough allergic study may reveal a combination of substances that are responsible for the asthma. Careful desensitization to these offenders will probably be a greater contribution to his welfare than the attempt to free his room of dust. Remember, too, that the child cannot be isolated in a single room without imposing great psychological damage another important cause of repeated asthmatic attacks.

Learn the basic rules of first aid. It is rewarding to help save another's life.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, Aug. 17, the 229th day of 1970. There are 136 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1914, Germany declared war on Russia at the beginning of World War I.

On this date: In 1648, forces under Oliver Cromwell defeated royalists at the Battle of Preston in England.

In 1765, Indians under Chief Pontiac signed a peace treaty with the British at Detroit.

In 1786, the hero of the Alamo, Davy Crockett, was born in Tennessee.

In 1863, during the Civil War, Federal batteries and ships bombarded Ft. Sumter in Charleston Harbor.

In 1915, a hurricane struck Galveston, Tex., killing 275 persons.

Ten years ago: U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers pleaded guilty at the opening of his trial in Moscow.

One year ago: One of the worst hurricanes on record, "Camille," hit the Mississippi Gulf coast.

Radiator Repaired With Chewing Gum

BANCHORY, Scotland (AP) — Twenty-five Brownies (junior Girl Scouts) from here thought they wouldn't make it to the Kincaidine Girl Guides (Girl Scouts) diamond jubilee celebrations when their bus radiator began to leak.

But they found a solution. The chatter stopped and they started chewing gum which the driver used to plug the radiator hole. The girls reached their destination gumless, but on time.

Spending, Foreign Policy

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

President Nixon has a great seventh-inning rally going in foreign policy. The ninety-day cool-off in the Middle East will take him through August, September and October — virtually to election day. Unless the Palestinian Arab guerrillas upset things, Nixon's enemies won't be able to manipulate the Israeli-Arab confrontation to score points while the campaign is on. And in Southeast Asia, the monsoon rains should keep that front at least relatively safe for the White House until some time in October.

But even if the Senatorial doves — and the college campuses — presumably won't have any Cambodias or Phantom-Jets-to-Israel crisis to exploit on the hustings for a couple of months to come, Richard Nixon, who prides himself on his knowings in foreign affairs, may be digging his grave as an international statesman. Foreign policy in America will, in the long run, be no better than the U.S. dollar, and the Nixon domestic policies, far from being truly anti-inflationary, are designed, whether consciously or not, to break the bank. At the rate that domestic spending will reach if the Nixon revised Family Assistance Plan passes through Congress, there won't be any money left for high-grade defense programs, and what the Soviets will do with that opening is almost too horrible to contemplate. Our short-run successes in the Middle East and Southeast Asia won't be worth a dime.

The White House 1970 election campaign strategy will make much of foreign policy successes. But how is the White House going to explain the possible imminence of a $15 billion budget deficit for the current fiscal year? How is it going to laugh off a projected $20 billion deficit for fiscal 1972? These figures are being mentioned sotto voce in White House office cubicles. The Nixon strategy for the autumn will be to couple the rosey foreign affairs speeches with denunciations of the Democratically-controlled Congress for high-wide-and-handsome spending and for overriding vetoes of the HEW appropriation bill and such. But all this will ring hollow if Congress enacts an Administration-sponsored, guaranteed annual family income plan that will more than double the welfare rolls (from ten million to twenty-four million) and add $4 billion and maybe much more to the existing annual welfare costs.

Senator Russell Long of Louisiana, the Democratic chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, has been almost as displeased by the revised White House version of the Family Assistance Plan bill as he was with the original. But at last reports he was inclined to wobble, presumably because his party can't afford to be anti-family assistance in an election year. Long admits that a guaranteed income plan designed to put every family over the $4,741 mark (in welfare money, earnings and food stamps) would put 35 per cent of the people of Mississippi on welfare.

Other members of the finance committee — Senators John Williams of Delaware and Herman Talmadge of Georgia — echo Long's concern for the inflationary potential of Family Assistance. Williams doubts that the "work incentive" aspects of the Plan would cause anyone on relief to do any extensive job hunting. Going from an unemployed status to full-time work at standard minimum wage rates would give familyassisted people only from twenty-three to thirty cents on the dollar. Yet, in spite of his doubts, Senator Long is committed to getting a bill out this year, and the majority on his committee will keep it from being anti-inflationary.

It isn't that President Nixon has done any elimination of other welfare spending to make Family Assistance palatable to budget balancers. Says Senator Talmadge, "I attempted to find out where the trade-offs would be. I requested a detailed list of programs that the Administration intends to eliminate or reduce in order to pay for the welfare bill."

There was no response to the Georgia Democrat's request for information. So how is Nixon going to make it stick when he chastises the Democrats for spendthrift action? Senator Talmadge would be right there as a "Truth Squad" of one to call the Republicans a bunch of phonies.

Senator Fannin of Arizona has offered a bill that would make it mandatory for Congress to balance the budget every year save in times of declared wars. A good idea, but Nixon would have to veto it if he continues to insist on raising the number of U.S. families on welfare from ten to twenty-four million.

Andy Griffith's Series

By BOB THOMAS

AP Television-Movie Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "My daddy is 75 years old, and he isn't watching television so much any more," observes Andy Griffith. "He says they oughta put somethin' new on that tube."

Andy himself aims to oblige. When he returns to television with a new series this autumn, the North Carolina accent will be the same, but the words will be different.

The show is called "Headmaster," and that's what Andy plays. He runs a private school. Not in the cornpone country but right here in the San Fernando Valley, not far from Beautiful Downtown Burbank.

"It won't be all fun and games at Andy's school, either. One of the scripts begins with Andy making a lecture about the misuse of pills and ends with a star pupil in the hospital with an overdose."

"Oh, we've got some strong stuff, all right, some real strong stuff," Andy said. "This won't be an out-and-out comedy, though there'll be some hilarious stuff in it, too. But you just can't do a school show in this day and age and not take up problems."

"Yeah, I know the danger. That switchboard is going to light up like a Christmas tree after some of our shows. I know some of the fans of the old shows are going to be disappointed. I just hope we can keep enough of them and add a lot of the young crowd so we can make a go of it."

Andy was taking a breather in his trailer-dressing room at Warner Brothers, where he'll be spending six months of his year.

Andy hit it off with Aaron Rubin, who created "The Andy Griffith Show." Hitsville for eight seasons.

He quit the show to do movies for Universal. The first was "Angel in My Pocket."

"I enjoyed makin' it—I enjoyed makin' the fire out of it," he said. "But somehow the picture didn't work. And if you make a noise and nobody hears it, you ain't done nothin'."

He recognized that he is the kind of a person who needs to keep busy. So when CBS offered him a series deal—no pilot needed—he signed. Then he hooked up again with Aaron Rubin.

Both agreed it should be more serious than the previous show. "At first I resisted the idea of a school show, because of 'The Bill Cosby Show' and 'Room 222,'" said Andy. "Then I changed my mind. I'm not puttin' those shows down in any way, but I reasoned that Bill's show is Bill-right? and 'Room 222' has only one comedy character, the principal. So I could see room for us."

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, Aug. 17, the 229th day of 1970. There are 136 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1914, Germany declared war on Russia at the beginning of World War I.

On this date: In 1648, forces under Oliver Cromwell defeated royalists at the Battle of Preston in England.

In 1765, Indians under Chief Pontiac signed a peace treaty with the British at Detroit.

In 1786, the hero of the Alamo, Davy Crockett, was born in Tennessee.

In 1863, during the Civil War, Federal batteries and ships bombarded Ft. Sumter in Charleston Harbor.

In 1915, a hurricane struck Galveston, Tex., killing 275 persons.

Five years ago: Robert Manry of Cleveland landed his little boat "Tinkerbelle" at Falmouth, England, after an Atlantic crossing that took 73 days.

One year ago: One of the worst hurricanes on record, "Camille," hit the Mississippi Gulf coast.

Radiator Repaired With Chewing Gum

BANCHORY, Scotland (AP) — Twenty-five Brownies (junior Girl Scouts) from here thought they wouldn't make it to the Kincardine Girl Guides (Girl Scouts) diamond jubilee celebrations when their bus radiator began to leak.

But they found a solution. The chatter stopped and they started chewing gum which the driver used to plug the radiator hole. The girls reached their destination gumless, but on time.

Spending, Foreign Policy

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN
President Nixon has a great seventh-inning rally going in foreign policy. The ninety-day cool-off in the Middle East will take him through August, September and October — virtually to election day. Unless the Palestinian Arab guerrillas upset things, Nixon's enemies won't be able to manipulate the Israeli-Arab confrontation to score points while the campaign is on. And in Southeast Asia, the monsoon rains should keep that front at least relatively safe for the White House until some time in October.

But even if the Senatorial doves — and the college campuses — presumably won't have any Cambodias or Phantom-Jets-to-Israel crisis to exploit on the hustings for a couple of months to come, Richard Nixon, who prides himself on his knowledge in foreign affairs, may be digging his grave as an international statesman. Foreign policy in America will, in the long run, be no better than the U.S. dollar, and the Nixon domestic policies, far from being truly anti-inflationary, are designed, whether consciously or not, to break the bank. At the rate that domestic spending will reach if the Nixon revised Family Assistance Plan passes Congress, there won't be any money left for high-grade defense programs, and what the Soviets will do with that opening is almost too horrible to contemplate. Our short-run successes in the Middle East and Southeast Asia won't be worth a dime.

The White House 1970 election campaign strategy will make much of foreign policy successes. But how is the White House going to explain the possible imminence of a $15 billion budget deficit for the current fiscal year? How is it going to laugh off a projected $20 billion deficit for fiscal 1972? These figures are being mentioned sotto voce in White House office cubicles. The Nixon strategy for the autumn will be to couple the rosey foreign affairs speeches with denunciations of the Democratically-controlled Congress for high-wide-and-handsome spending and for overriding vetoes of the HEW appropriation bill and such. But all this will ring hollow if Congress enacts an Administration-sponsored, guaranteed annual family income plan that will more than double the welfare rolls (from ten million to twenty-four million) and add $4 billion and maybe much more to the existing annual welfare costs.

Senator Russell Long of Louisiana, the Democratic chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, has been almost as displeased by the revised White House version of the Family Assistance Plan bill as he was with the original. But at last reports he was inclined to wobble, presumably because his party can't afford to be anti-family assistance in an election year. Long admits that a guaranteed income plan designed to put every family over the $4,741 mark (in welfare money, earnings and food stamps) would put 35 per cent of the people of Mississippi on welfare.

Other members of the finance committee — Senators John Williams of Delaware and Herman Talmadge of Georgia — echo Long's concern for the inflationary potential of Family Assistance. Williams doubts that the "work incentive" aspects of the Plan would cause anyone on relief to do any extensive job hunting. Going from an unemployed status to full-time work at standard minimum wage rates would give familyassisted people only from twenty-three to thirty cents on the dollar. Yet, in spite of his doubts, Senator Long is committed to getting a bill out this year, and the majority on his committee will keep it from being anti-inflationary.

It isn't that President Nixon has done any elimination of other welfare spending to make Family Assistance palatable to budget balancers. Says Senator Talmadge, "I attempted to find out where the trade-offs would be. I requested a detailed list of programs that the Administration intends to eliminate or reduce in order to pay for the welfare bill."

There was no response to the Georgia Democrat's request for information. So how is Nixon going to make it stick when he chastises the Democrats for spendthrift action? Senator Talmadge would be right there as a "Truth Squad" of one to call the Republicans a bunch of phonies.

Senator Fannin of Arizona has offered a bill that would make it mandatory for Congress to balance the budget every year save in times of declared wars. A good idea, but Nixon would have to veto it if he continues to insist on raising the number of U.S. families on welfare from ten to twenty-four million.

Andy Griffith's Series

By BOB THOMAS

AP Television-Movie Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "My daddy is 75 years old, and he isn't watching television so much any more," observes Andy Griffith. "He says they oughta put somethin' new on that tube."

Andy himself aims to oblige. When he returns to television with a new series this autumn, the North Carolina accent will be the same, but the words will be different.

The show is called "Headmaster," and that's what Andy plays. He runs a private school. Not in the cornpone country but right here in the San Fernando Valley, not far from Beautiful Downtown Burbank.

"It won't be all fun and games at Andy's school, either. One of the scripts begins with Andy making a lecture about the misuse of pills and ends with a star pupil in the hospital with an overdose."

"Oh, we've got some strong stuff, all right, some real strong stuff," Andy said. "This won't be an out-and-out comedy, though there'll be some hilarious stuff in it, too. But you just can't do a school show in this day and age and not take up problems."

"Yeah, I know the danger. That switchboard is going to light up like a Christmas tree after some of our shows. I know some of the fans of the old shows are going to be disappointed. I just hope we can keep enough of them and add a lot of the young crowd so we can make a go of it."

He quit the show to do movies for Universal. The first was "Angel in My Pocket." "I enjoyed makin' the fire out of it," he said. "But somehow the picture didn't work. And if you make a noise and nobody hears it, you ain't doin' nothin'."

He recognized that he is the kind of a person who needs to keep busy. So when CBS offered him a series deal — no pilot needed — he signed. Then he hooked up again with Aaron Rubin. Both agreed it should be more serious than the previous show.

"At first I resisted the idea of a school show, because of 'The Bill Cosby Show' and 'Room 222,'" said Andy. "Then I changed my mind. I'm not puttin' those shows down in any way, but I reasoned that Bill's show is Bill-right? and 'Room 222' has only one comedy character, the principal. So I could see room for us."

Of 13 entries in the "healthiest" boy and girl of 4-H clubs in the county, nine went into final selection with winners picked after physical examinations through the Pickaway County Health Department. The first major improvement of Salt Creek School since 1916 was planned with a proposed addition to the building dependent upon passage of a $135,000 bond issue in November.

Distances covered walking on the job was being recorded for the Herald by a pedometer attached to the individual. Thus far, two shared the record of 16 miles per work day — a milkman and meter reader. A nurse's aide at Berger Hospital registered 14 miles.

A bit of old Circleville history was brought to attention when a resident of Marion wrote The Herald asking if the Bank of Circleville still existed. The writer had a $3 bank note issued by that bank on Sept. 2, 1835 and wanted to know if the note could be redeemed. No and no.

This is the age of prebuilt homes. Yes, we are speaking of the mobile home. Homes that are prebuilt, prefurnished, predecorated and prefinished, that people can move into and start living immediately, without a waiting period.

This year, one out of every six home-buying families will order their home prebuilt, just like they would order a new car.

In the future, should they decide that they would like to have another new home, the procedure is very simple, all they have to do is have the old one removed and replaced by a brand new one, again ready for immediate occupancy and living.

At CIRCLEVILLE MOBILE HOMES, you can see and tour the fabulous mobile homes on display now. These prebuilt, relocatable mobile homes of quality and beauty, require virtually no maintenance or upkeep, come in a variety of sizes and so easy on the budget, it's like paying rent.

JONESBORO, Ga. (AP) — A word to the man who likes his locks a trifle long: Don't sit down in a country barber shop and order a "regular haircut" and expect to remain fashionably shaggy.

The country barber's conception of a regular haircut stops just a hair short of a scalping. The product is instant generation gap.

I stopped off a few days ago in a small community south of Atlanta for a soft drink at a service station. I needed a haircut and decided, in a spasm of daring, that the small, one-chair barber shop down the road would be equal to the task.

The shop was colorfully rustic with year-old copies of The Police Gazette and detective magazines on the rack, a yellowing motor oil calendar on the wall, ragged carpet on the floor and the barber—himself indifferently barbered—dozing fitfully in his patched leatherette chair.

Throwing caution to the wind, I woke him and ordered the $1.25 regular special which, according to the chart on the wall, was a general sortening. He told me I looked like a man whose tastes in reading material were more lofty than Gazette. He produced a tattered Zane Grey western and said the courthouse crowd had read it several times.

Then the barber nudged me into the chair, wrapped a kitchen towel around my neck and began his labors. My hair was moderately long and the barber squinted at it reproachfully.

He began snipping away with a rusty-looking pair of scissors. "Regular haircut, eh?" he said, then cackled.

All the while the clippers were roaring in my ears. There was no mirror in front of me but a fearful amount of hair fell onto the towel and through a hole onto my shirt front.

As I turned page six of the novel, the barber suddenly stood back and angrily rapped his clippers against the washbowl. "Clogged 'em with hair, dern it," he exclaimed. "Weren't made for this long hair of today."

A few minutes later he was finished. He looked a bit worried.

"You did say regular, right?" he asked. His face brightened when I repeated the order.

He held up a hand mirror in front of me. He had left perhaps an inch of hair on top but the sides were short and clean. Nothing was there except for stubble, like a five o'clock shadow on the sides of my head. I felt weak.

"I'll do better next time," said my friend. "Takes me one or two haircuts to learn a head. Your's is bumpier than most, as

Mexican-American Job Bank Set

By PEGGY SIMPSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal agency has created a job bank to place qualified Mexican-Americans and other Spanish-speaking persons in government positions.

Mexican-Americans in top civil service grades between 15 and 18 number little more than 1 per cent, the agency says, compared with 5.3 per cent for blacks.

The Cabinet Committee for Opportunity of the Spanish-surnamed adds only 2.3 per cent of all government employees are Mexican-Americans. Most work in lower echelons.

In its initial five months, only 5 to 7 per cent of the estimated 500 applicants on file have gotten jobs.

"What's been lacking has been a commitment on the part of the agencies," said Merced Hernandez, a Texan with 14 years' experience in directing personnel operations within the government.

At weekly meetings with placement people from agencies throughout the government, he finds out about current or upcoming vacancies.

He is trying to persuade agencies to call him and ask for recommendations of Spanish-surnamed specialists.

When he learns of an opening, and has people qualified for it, he may send up to four applicants to be considered. The cabinet committee itself doesn't formally endorse an applicant, he said, but tries to match persons with openings.

Some persons have tried and failed to get positions for which their training and experience qualified them, he said. Others aren't aware of where they should market their skills.

Hernandez said some applicants have passed the federal entrance exams and have a rating.

But he said one-third of the people currently in professional positions in the government didn't come in by passing the difficult career entrance exams. Instead they worked at lower levels and were promoted or had compensatory training, he explained.

With the right kind of know-how, he said, Mexican-Americans can do the same thing.

Hernandez and committee director Martin Castillo also are trying other tactics to bring more Spanish-surnamed people

Castillo suggested to the Federal Aviation Administration, for example, that Spanish-speaking air traffic controllers might be a bonus in international ports. Castillo said the controllers often converse with pilots from Spain and South American nations whose English is shaky.

District Director of Internal Revenue, Paul A. Schuster, said that the Special Enrollment Examination in the Southern Ohio District will be given at Cincinnati on Sept. 28 and 29.

Interested persons can secure applications and additional information from their local IRS office, he said.

Applications, accompanied by a fee of $25 payable to the Internal Revenue Service, should be mailed to the Director, Audit Division, Internal Revenue Service, Washington, D. C. 20224.

Some persons have tried and failed to get positions for which their training and experience qualified them, he said. Others aren't aware of where they should market their skills.

Hernandez said some applicants have passed the federal entrance exams and have a rating. But he said one-third of the people currently in professional positions in the government didn't come in by passing the difficult career entrance exams. Instead they worked at lower levels and were promoted or had compensatory training, he explained.

With the right kind of know-how, he said, Mexican-Americans can do the same thing.

Hernandez and committee director Martin Castillo also are trying other tactics to bring more Spanish-surnamed people

Castillo suggested to the Federal Aviation Administration, for example, that Spanish-speaking air traffic controllers might be a bonus in international ports. Castillo said the controllers often converse with pilots from Spain and South American nations whose English is shaky.

Hernandez said emphasis also is placed on persuading federal job recruiters to stop at colleges which enroll sizable numbers of the Mexican-Americans.

Prosecutor To Stay In Probe Despite Democratic Charges

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — School Employees Retirement System and the state treasury, a firm arranging many of the loans, and campaign contributions by some of the officials of that firm to State Treasurer John Herbert and State Sen. Robin Turner, R - 14 Marion, among others.

Peck said the meeting with Andrews was simply to seek out more evidence for presentation to the grand jury.

Peck denied that political motives prompted the meeting.

The request for removal came from State Democratic Chairman Eugene O'Grady on Friday.

O'Grady, in a letter to Common Pleas Court Judge Myron Gessaman, accused Peck and Johnson of meeting with State Republican Chairman John Andrews in secret Thursday. O'Grady asked that the court determine whether the two prosecutors should be removed from the case.

Johnson admitted at a news conference Friday that a visit had been made. He also said the conversations dealt with Republicans and the loan probe. Both Johnson and Peck are Republicans.

Both are also bound by law not to reveal the findings of the special grand jury.

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWERY
AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Herschel Bernardi is returning to television in mid-September in the title role of "Arnie," CBS's new half-hour series about the day-to-day adventures of a family man who is suddenly pulled from the security of a leading platform and tossed into the executive suite.

Bernardi left television almost a decade ago with a firm public identity as Lt. Jacoby, a rumpled, weary and cynical police officer outwitted each week by private eye "Peter Gunn."

Since he has added to his Broadway credits in musicals such as "Fiddler on the Roof," "Arnie" will have a wife and a couple of children and will reflect the television trend for situation comedies that shoot for the heart, not the funny bone, and often have a message built in.

But in a TV world which is largely dedicated to depicting idealistically middle-class, middle-income and especially suburban life, "Arnie" will be a standout. It will be the first of the neosituation comedies dedicated to the glorification of the blue-collar worker and his life style. There were some lunch-pail carrying heroes in the past, but Jackie Gleason's Ralph, the bus driver, William Bendix's Riley and the kooky carpenters of "I'm Dickens . . . He's Fenster" were figures of fun.

Bernardi, a skilled actor will play a contented working man who unexpectedly becomes a high salaried executive, but determinedly sticks by his convictions. He has just concluded an episode in which Arnie is assigned to notify an old friend that, after 27 years of loyal service to the company, he is to be summarily retired with pension and gold watch just because he has reached his 65th birthday.

In one scene Bernardi was putting in outrage against a system ruled by the calendar instead of a man's individual capacity. It should make a hit with the mature audience.

"I think we make some points," Bernardi observed during a break in shooting. "We have another show in which Arnie's son has been ordered at school to cut his hair. I argue and order; he balks. Then suddenly the company orders Arnie to shave off his mustache. I think the episode may help bring a little understanding on both sides in a pretty common situation these days."

Premiere date for the series is Sept. 19 with a Cinderella-style episode that explains how one poor but honest working man gets his break. It may not be the best half-hour in the series, but in situation comedy, they really have to establish a premise before they can get to the jokes, the heart-warming or the message.

and an underwater camera and sophisticated monitoring devices, are studying ways to save Lake Erie.

The intensive six-month, $200,000 study, named Project Hypo, was devised to study the rapid depletion of oxygen in the lake. The scientists want to find out why and how the oxygen is being depleted and what it will take to halt the process.

The scientists are from the U.S. Federal Water Quality Administration's Lake Erie office in Cleveland and the Canada

Centre for Inland Waters.

"We're trying to find out just how much it's going to take to save Lake Erie," said Curtis Ross, the chief U.S. scientist.

Ross said other questions the project will try to answer are: —What causes the dissolved oxygen to be depleted drastically in the summer?

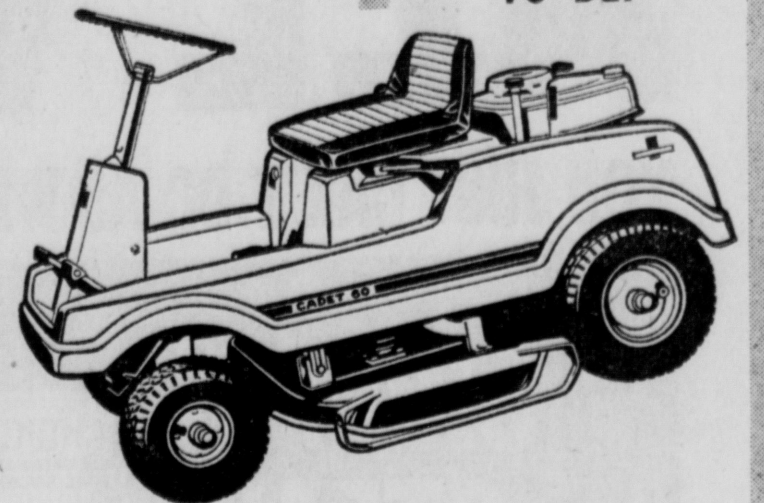

—Is presence of algae in the sediment enough to create the pollution increase?

—Is 80 per cent removal of phosphates from waste water by cities and industries enough?

Twins Explode, Stop Boston, 9-6

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
The go-go power had gone in the Minnesota Twins' hitting machine... and Manager Bill Rigney was seeing double. "Hitting's been the big problem... and for that matter, so has our pitching," said a distracted Rigney, his team stuck in a nine-game losing slide before Sunday's game at Boston. But all bad things come to an end sooner or later—and Minnesota's Twin-barreled offense suddenly was switched in, turned on... and out of sight.

The Twins broke out in typical, fence-busting fashion with four homers that beamed Boston 9-6 in a free-swinging Fenway Park. The victory boosted Minnesota's West Division American League lead to 4½ games over Oakland, which lost 2-1 to Baltimore.

The Twins had a 10-game lead over second-place California on Aug. 8, before the start of the Great Skid. Oakland got hot and won six of eight, took over second and had cut Minnesota's bulge to 3½ games. Milwaukee spilled Cleveland 4-3; Detroit turned back California 7-1; Washington nipped Chicago 2-1 and New York downed Kansas City 5-1 in the other AL games Sunday.

Rigney, interviewed before Sunday's game, confessed the Twins had been playing raggedly. "When you say, slump, you touch a lot of bases," said Rigney. "And we touched them all. Our play has been ragged all over."

Cesar Tovar's three-run homer in the eighth capped the long ball party and turned out to be the decisive blow. Brant Aleya, George Mitterwald and Harmon Killebrew (37) hit earlier homers for the Twins.

Reggie Smith, Tony Conigliaro and Gerry Moses homered for the Red Sox in the swinging affair that also produced a total of seven doubles.

Bert Blyleven, who started the nine-game streak with a losing effort, won the game in relief for Minnesota.

Baltimore's Dave McNally became the majors' first 18-game winner, stopping Oakland's surge toward the top with a six-hitter. Chico Salmon's homer off the left-field screen in the fifth broke a tie and sent the Orioles to their 12th victory in the last 17 games.

Gus Gil drove in Roberto Pena with a ninth inning single as the Brewers' won their fourth, one-run game in a row. Pena worked a walk off Dennis Higgins to open the ninth and was sacrificed to second by Ted Kubiak.

Mickey Stanley and Jim Northrup ripped three hits each in a 14-hit Detroit attack as the Tigers bounced the Angels. Left-hander Les Cain pitched a four-hitter for his 11th victory.

Del Unser's run-scoring, pinch-hit single in the eighth scored Ed Brinkman with the go-ahead run in Washington's victory over Chicago. Ed Stroud had a homer for the winners.

Stan Bahnsen, pitching on a pass from military duty, cut down Kansas City on six hits for the Yankees' triumph, their 15th in 21 games.

Vikings Confront Season With Quarterback Woes

By PAT THOMPSON

Associated Press Sports Writer
MANKATO, Minn. (AP) — The Minnesota Vikings confront the 1970 National Football League season with what is becoming an annual, nagging problem — who's at quarterback.

Coach Bud Grant has been faced with a question about his No. 1 man since he joined the Vikings in 1967, when Fran Tarkenton was traded to the New York Giants for a batch of first round draft choices who played major roles in Minnesota's 1969 NFL championship.

This year, burly Joe Kapp left the void when he asked for a $1.25 million five-year contract and boycotted training camp while the Vikings refused to meet the demands.

So, injury-prone Gary Cuozzo steps into the No. 1 job for now. Cuozzo started the first game last year while Kapp recovered from a knee injury and the Vikings lost. Kapp returned and rallied the Vikings to a 12-2 record and playoff victories over Cleveland and Los Angeles.

Behind Cuozzo are untested Bob Lee, last year's punter, and Bill Cappelman, unproven Florida State rookie.

Whoever the quarterback is opening day, when Minnesota seeks revenge from the Super Bowl loss to Kansas City, he will have the mighty purple machine behind him.

After the Vikings won the Central Division title in 1968 with an 8-6 record and lost to Baltimore in the playoffs, Grant vowed great improvement. The Vikings responded with virtually the same lineups and became an NFL giant.

Again, the Vikings will go with almost the same cast. Where will they improve?

"What areas?" Grant said. "All of them. Every last one."

Greatest improvement last year resulted in an offensive explosion—379 points. Kapp threw 19 touchdown passes, seven in one game; Gene Washington caught 39 passes for nine touchdowns, and the powerful running fleet of Dave Osborn, Oscar Reed, Bill Brown and Clint Jones combined for 1,667 yards.

Kicker Fred Cox set an NFL record with 121 points on 26 field goals and 43 conversions.

Ed White, the only rookie to make the team, and Ron Yary, gave the offensive line, anchored by All-Pro center Mick Tingelhoff, depth and muscle.

The defense more often than not was the best offense, setting an NFL record by allowing only 133 points. Improvement by linemen Lonnie Warwick, Wally Hilgenberg and Roy Winston helped contain the run and strengthen pass defense.

Eller may be slowed in the early going because of a hernia. Marshall has recovered from a tonsillectomy that left him in critical condition last winter when blood reached his lungs.

The Vikings avoided costly injuries and mistakes as they rolled into the Super Bowl. Then their world collapsed. The Chiefs clobbered them 23-7.

"Kansas City played extremely well..." Granth said. "But we made as many costly mistakes in that one game as we had made in a season."

Now, the Vikings get a chance for revenge Sept. 20 in the first game of a very rugged schedule that also includes Los Angeles, Dallas, the New York Jets and Central Division rivals Green Bay, Chicago and Detroit twice each.

Grant said, "I would be disappointed if the players don't realize what it took to get to the Super Bowl. You have to crank up and do it again. All we are thinking about right now is the Central Division. That's where it starts. They are the teams we have to beat."

And they need a quarterback to do it.

Jurgensen, Redskins Crush Patriots, 45-21

By BEN THOMAS

Associated Press Sports Writer
Even with the temperature in the 90s and flames erupting in the wooden stands, the hottest thing in Boston College Stadium was the throwing arm of Sonny Jurgensen.

Many say Jurgensen is the premiere passer in pro football. His performance Sunday as the Washington Redskins crushed the Boston Patriots 45-21 gives an indication why.

When Jurgensen trotted off the turf early in the third period, his Redskins held a commanding 28-0 edge after four Jurgensen touchdown passes, three to Jerry Smith.

"Now we have to establish our ground game to give him some help," said Bill Austin, who is pinch-hitting as the interim head coach for the 'Skins because of the illness and hospitalization of Vince Lombardi.

It got kind of warm, however, even before the game began.

A fire broke out in a section of the stands, delaying the start 22 minutes.

Then Jurgensen burned up the Patriot secondary with his passing. His scoring tosses to Smith went 6, 18 and 61 yards. Larry Brown caught the other touchdown throw, an 11-yarder.

Sonny's statistics: 14 of 16 for 176 yards and no interceptions. Over-all, Washington's passing produced a 18-for-22 showing, good for 248 yards.

The Oakland Raiders are at Philadelphia tonight in the final game of the second exhibition weekend.

In the Saturday clashes, the New Orleans Saints beat the Houston Oilers 19-10 as rookie Ken Burroughs dashed 64 yards with the second-half kickoff to set up the winning touchdown. There was a free-for-all in the first quarter with both benches emptying.

"You remember a game like that for a long time and you could say it had something to do with getting us fired up," said Pittsburgh Coach Chuck Noll, recalling the 52-12 humiliation handed his Steelers last year by Minnesota. This time it was Pittsburgh 20, Minnesota 13 and the first victory in 15 games for the Steelers—13 regular season and one exhibition game loss.

Terry Bradshaw, the Louisiana Tech Little All-American and pro football's No. 1 rookie this season, played, Noll said, "a tremendous game."

The strong-armed young quarterback went the distance, completing 12 of 30 for 111 yards. Preston Pearson also sparked for Pittsburgh, going 98 yards for a touchdown with a kickoff return and rushing 74 yards, including a 36-yard spurt which set up a touchdown.

Bob Berry hurled a pair of touchdown passes as the Atlanta Falcons crushed the New York Jets, still without Joe Namath, 33-7. The Jets' score didn't come until the final two minutes.

The Los Angeles Rams had to keep big Roman Gabriel on the bench after the quarterback reinjured his right knee in pregame warmups. Karl Sweeten threw twice for touchdowns, however, to lead the Rams past the Cowboys 17-10.

Marty Domres passed 20 yards to Gary Garrison with 1:52 left to lift the San Diego Chargers, down 20 points at one stage, to a 30-27 conquest of the New York Giants.

Quarterback Bill Nelsen threw two touchdowns as the Cleveland Browns defeated the San Francisco 49ers 17-10. Fairhooker, a rookie, caught one of the Nelsen scoring strikes and set up the other with another catch.

Booth Lusteg's field goal from the 12 with seven seconds remaining salvaged a 6-6 tie for the Green Bay Packers with the Chicago Bears. Linzy Cole, a rookie, caught a 60-yard touchdown pass from Chicago quarterback Bob Douglas.

Bob Griese hit 15 of 19 for 182 yards including a pair of touchdowns in directing the Miami Dolphins to a 20-10 victory over Cincinnati.

The pregame bomb scare which forced evacuation of the St. Louis Cardinals dressing room at Denver turned out to be a dud. The Broncos, however, exploded in the final 37 seconds to defeat the Cards 26-16. A 24-yard field goal by Bobby Howfield snapped a 16-16 tie and Jim Bakken's attempted field goal, with 10 seconds was blocked by Denver's Dave Costa. Bill

Cloninger's Mixed Attack Stops Phils For 4-2 Loss

CINCINNATI (AP) — Tony Cloninger was making a slightly different kind of pitch after he used a blend of fast balls and change-ups to baffled Philadelphia Sunday.

The pitch was for the high-mineral drink, Gatorade, which has been "the saving thing for me," Cloninger said.

Cloninger checked the Phillies on two runs -- one earned -- and five hits before being lifted in the ninth inning and helped Cincinnati post a 4-2 victory. He also contributed a home run in the sixth inning.

The temperature on the field, covered with Astroturf, was said to have been about 140 degrees at game time, but Cloninger said "the heat wasn't too troublesome."

"I used to lose 12 to 15 pounds a game but now I drink one to two cups of Gatorade between each inning and it helps me maintain my strength."

After being nicked for single runs in the first two innings, the veteran right-hander held the Phillies to one hit until the ninth. He allowed a lead off single to Ron Stone and was spelled by Wayne Granger who picked up his 27th save.

"The first few innings are tough for me," Cloninger said. "I feel if I can get by them I've got a good chance to pitch a good ballgame."

Cloninger, 6-4, walked four men in the first three innings and Manager Sparky Anderson made a trip to the mound.

"When Sparky came out early he just told me to quit fighting myself and get in there and throw strikes," Cloninger said. "That is just what I did."

Philadelphia Manager Frank Lucchesi said, "I thought we had a chance to get to Cloninger

Miamisburg Wins

AL Baseball Title

ASHLAND, Ohio (AP) — Mi-

ami's fifth straight tournament victory—an 11-1 trouncing of Bridgeport Saturday—has given it the Ohio American Legion baseball title.

Barry Hobbs, Miamisburg's starting pitcher, was credited with the victory, his third of the tournament. He received a lot of help from Ron Profit, Al Mills and John Zola who collected three hits each to lead Miamisburg's 15-hit attack.

Miamisburg entered the final game without a tournament defeat and started the tournament with a 50-13 season mark.

Coyan, Dusty Cop Features In Action Card At Atomic

Two veteran drivers were hospitalized for injuries in separate accidents in attempts to start the super-modified feature and two hard-chargers were the main event winners in close racing at Atomic Speedway Saturday night.

Bobby Morgan of Chillicothe, who set the fast qualifying mark for his fifth time of the season, received a possible broken leg and Roy Singleton of Manchester had a back injury in the unrelated accidents getting the modified feature under way.

Morgan barely avoided the locked cars of Singleton and Chuck Brown of Dayton between the first two turns, only to leave the track himself at about the same spot on the next try to start the feature. Morgan's car almost came back on the track at the No. 3 turn and workers had to remove the steering column and part of the roll cage to free him.

Morgan entered Chillicothe Hospital for treatment for the injury that resulted when a bar bent up and entered his leg.

LEE Dusty, a veteran driver from Columbus, was in front all the way but had to withstand a late challenge from Chuck Fletcher, also of Columbus, in winning his first Atomic feature of the season. Fletcher was not in the first five cars in the list when the race was restarted from the 20th lap but by the time they reached the flagman he was right behind Dusty to set up the five-lap battle in a controversial finish.

A protesting Jim Fizer of Cleveland, who had been helped by a spinout of second-running Junior Smalley to set up the restart, finished third.

Paul Coyan of Jackson took the lead from George Branscom of Chillicothe on the 14th lap to win his second super-stock feature of the season. Don Stump of Circleville was the runner-up and Branscom was third.

Coyan and Jim West were the stock heat winners and John Johnson won the consi. West was lucky in being able to keep running when all three of the front-runners tangled and spun in front of the flagman in the opening heat race.

Fizer and Jim Meeker of Chillicothe shared the modified consi in a dead heat after Meeker had led all of the way and Fletcher set the pace all of the way in the Helmet dash with Sam Erwin almost pulling even at the finish line. Modified heat races went to Dusty, George Harbour of Huntington, W. Va., and Erwin.

Vikings Confront Season With Quarterback Woes

By PAT THOMPSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
MANKATO, Minn. (AP) — The Minnesota Vikings confront the 1970 National Football League season with what is becoming an annual, nagging problem — who's at quarterback.

Coach Bud Grant has been faced with a question about his No. 1 man since he joined the Vikings in 1967, when Fran Tarkenton was traded to the New York Giants for a batch of first round draft choices who played major roles in Minnesota's 1969 NFL championship.

This year, burly Joe Kapp left the void when he asked for a $1.25 million five-year contract and boycotted training camp while the Vikings refused to meet the demands.

So, injury-prone Gary Cuozzo steps into the No. 1 job for now. Cuozzo started the first game last year while Kapp recovered from a knee injury and the Vikings lost. Kapp returned and rallied the Vikings to a 12-2 record and playoff victories over Cleveland and Los Angeles.

Behind Cuozzo are untested Bob Lee, last year's punter, and Bill Cappelman, unproven Florida State rookie.

Whoever the quarterback is opening day, when Minnesota seeks revenge from the Super Bowl loss to Kansas City, he will have the mighty purple machine behind him.

After the Vikings won the Central Division title in 1968 with an 8-6 record and lost to Baltimore in the playoffs, Grant vowed great improvement. The Vikings responded with virtually the same lineups and became an NFL giant.

Again, the Vikings will go with almost the same cast.

Where will they improve? "What areas?" Grant said. "All of them. Every last one."

Greatest improvement last year resulted in an offensive explosion—379 points. Kapp threw 19 touchdown passes, seven in one game; Gene Washington caught 39 passes for nine touchdowns, and the powerful running fleet of Dave Osborn, Oscar Reed, Bill Brown and Clint Jones combined for 1,667 yards.

Kicker Fred Cox set an NFL record with 121 points on 26 field goals and 43 conversions.

Ed White, the only rookie to make the team, and Ron Yary, gave the offensive line, anchored by All-Pro center Mick Tingelhoff, depth and muscle.

The defense more often than not was the best offense, setting an NFL record by allowing only 133 points. Improvement by linemen Lonnie Warwick, Wally Hilgenberg and Roy Winston helped contain the run and strengthen pass defense.

Twins Explode, Stop Boston, 9-6

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
The go-go power had gone gone in the Minnesota Twins' hitting machine.

"Hitting's been the big problem... and for that matter, so has our pitching," said a distracted Rigney, his team stuck in a nine-game losing slide before Sunday's game at Boston.

But all bad things come to an end sooner or later—and Minnesota's Twin-barreled offense suddenly was switched in, turned on... and out of sight.

The Twins broke out in typical, fence-busting fashion with four homers that beamed Boston 9-6 in a free-swinging at Fenway Park. The victory boosted Minnesota's West Division American League lead to 4½ games over Oakland, which lost 2-1 to Baltimore.

The Twins had a 10-game lead over second-place California on Aug. 8, before the start of the Great Skid. Oakland got hot and won six of eight, took over second and had cut Minnesota's bulge to 3½ games.

Milwaukee spilled Cleveland 4-3; Detroit turned back California 7-1; Washington nipped Chicago 2-1 and New York downed Kansas City 5-1 in the other AL games Sunday.

Rigney, interviewed before Sunday's game, confessed the Twins had been playing raggedly.

"When you say, slump, you touch a lot of bases," said Rigney. "And we touched them all. Our play has been ragged all over."

Cesar Tovar's three-run homer in the eighth capped the long ball party and turned out to be the decisive blow. Brant Alyea, George Mitterwald and Harmon Killebrew (37) hit earlier homers for the Twins.

Reggie Smith, Tony Conigliaro and Gerry Moses homered for the Red Sox in the swinging affair that also produced a total of seven doubles.

Bert Blyleven, who started the nine-game streak with a losing effort, won the game in relief for Minnesota.

Baltimore's Dave McNally became the majors' first 18-game winner, stopping Oakland's surge toward the top with a six-hitter. Chico Salmon's homer off the left-field screen in the fifth broke a tie and sent the Orioles to their 12th victory in the last 17 games.

Gus Gil drove in Roberto Pena with a ninth inning single as the Brewers' won their fourth, one-run game in a row. Pena worked a walk off Dennis Higgins to open the ninth and was sacrificed to second by Ted Kubiak.

Mickey Stanley and Jim Northrup ripped three hits each in a 14-hit Detroit attack as the Tigers bounced the Angels. Left-hander Les Cain pitched a four-hitter for his 11th victory.

Del Unser's run-scoring, pinch-hit single in the eighth scored Ed Brinkman with the go-ahead run in Washington's victory over Chicago. Ed Stroud had a homer for the winners.

Stan Bahnsen, pitching on a pass from military duty, cut down Kansas City on six hits for the Yankees' triumph, their 15th in 21 games.

Jurgensen, Redskins Crush Patriots, 45-21

By BEN THOMAS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Even with the temperature in the 90s and flames erupting in the wooden stands, the hottest thing in Boston College Stadium was the throwing arm of Sonny Jurgensen.

Many say Jurgensen is the premiere passer in pro football. His performance Sunday as the Washington Redskins crushed the Boston Patriots 45-21 gives an indication why.

When Jurgensen trotted off the turf early in the third period, his Redskins held a commanding 28-0 edge after four Jurgensen touchdown passes, three to Jerry Smith.

"Now we have to establish our ground game to give him some help," said Bill Austin, who is pinch-hitting as the interim head coach for the Redskins because of the illness and hospitalization of Vince Lombardi.

It got kind of warm, however, even before the game began.

A fire broke out in a section of the stands, delaying the start 22 minutes.

Then Jurgensen burned up the Patriot secondary with his passing. His scoring tosses to Smith went 6, 18 and 61 yards. Larry Brown caught the other touchdown throw, an 11-yarder.

Sonny's statistics: 14 of 16 for 176 yards and no interceptions.

Over-all, Washington's passing produced a 18-for-22 showing, good for 248 yards.

The Oakland Raiders are at Philadelphia tonight in the final game of the second exhibition weekend.

In the Saturday clashes, the New Orleans Saints beat the Houston Oilers 19-10 as rookie Ken Burrough dashed 54 yards with the second-half kickoff to set up the winning touchdown. There was a free-for-all in the first quarter with both benches emptying.

"You remember a game like that for a long time and you could say it had something to do with getting us fired up," said Pittsburgh Coach Chuck Noll, recalling the 52-12 humiliation handed his Steelers last year by Minnesota. This time it was Pittsburgh 20, Minnesota 13 and the first victory in 15 games for the Steelers—13 regular season and one exhibition game loss.

Terry Bradshaw, the Louisiana Tech Little All-American and pro football's No. 1 rookie this season, played, Noll said, "a tremendous game."

The strong-armed young quarterback went the distance, completing 12 of 30 for 111 yards. Preston Pearson also sparked for Pittsburgh, going 98 yards for a touchdown with a kickoff return and rushing 74 yards, including a 36-yard spurt which set up a touchdown.

Bob Berry hurled a pair of touchdown passes as the Atlanta Falcons crushed the New York Jets, still without Joe Namath, 33-7. The Jets' score didn't come until the final two minutes.

The Los Angeles Rams had to keep big Roman Gabriel on the bench after the quarterback reinjured his right knee in pregame warmups. Karl Sweetan threw twice for touchdowns, however, to lead the Rams past the Cowboys 17-10.

Marty Domres passed 20 yards to Gary Garrison with 1:52 left to lift the San Diego Chargers, down 20 points at one stage, to a 30-27 conquest of the New York Giants.

Quarterback Bill Nelsen threw two touchdowns as the Cleveland Browns defeated the San Francisco 49ers 17-10. Fair

Pesky Mets Nip Atlanta Braves, 2-1

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Chief Knockahoma's war whoops had the New York Mets ears ringing... until Cleon Jones gave the Atlanta medicine man a taste of his own fire-water.

Jones drilled a tie-breaking home run in the sixth inning Sunday as the Mets shrugged off Knockahoma's Indian sign and nipped the Braves 2-1 behind the five-hit pitching of Jim McAndrew.

The victory, coupled with Pittsburgh's 8-6 loss to San Diego, sent the second place Mets within three games of the Pirates in the National League East Division scramble.

It also silenced the Braves' mischievous mascot, who holds fourth in a teepee just beyond the left field fence at Atlanta Stadium and celebrates each home team homer with a triumphant war dance.

In other National League action, Cincinnati defeated Philadelphia 4-2; the Chicago Cubs topped Los Angeles 5-2; San Francisco downed St. Louis 5-2; and Montreal trimmed Houston 5-3.

Knockahoma had no home runs to celebrate over the weekend but he flipped his war-bonnet Saturday night when Jerry Grote's third-strike passed ball and throwing error in the ninth gave the Braves a 3-2 victory over the startled Mets.

When the Braves scored the tying run against McAndrew Sunday on a zany, inning-ending double play, Knockahoma started whooping it up again. But Jones spoiled the fun by opening the sixth with his eighth homer of the season.

McAndrew ended a personal three-game losing string and brought his season record to 7-11 by blanking the Braves after Sonny Jackson scored in the fourth as the Mets completed a slow-motion double play.

Bengals Sign Rick Norton; Set Practice

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — The Cincinnati Bengals, battered more than one way by Miami, planned to begin working with a new quarterback today while Greg Cook was scheduled to undergo surgery.

The Bengals of the National Football League signed Rick Norton Sunday after dropping a 20-10 exhibition decision to the Dolphins Saturday night.

The Dolphins cut Norton last week because they felt he had not lived up to their expectations. He starred at the University of Kentucky and won a fat contract with the Dolphins.

"We signed Rick simply as a free agent and no part of his former big salary is involved," Bengals Coach Paul Brown said. Brown said that Miami Coach Don Shula told him "if we'd started in earlier with Norton he'd have been better off."

Sam Wyche and rookie Dave Lewis shared the quarterbacking responsibilities Saturday night and Brown declared that Lewis "was a bright spot."

Lewis completed eight of 14 passes for 116 yards and helped set up one touchdown. Wyche started the contest and hit on only four of nine passes for 51 yards but he was facing Miami's no. 1 defensive unit most of the time.

Cook, who topped the old American Football League in various passing categories last year — his rookie season, injured the right shoulder during a pick-up basketball game on the off-season and was to undergo surgery today at a Cleveland (Ohio) Clinic.

Eddie Meador Back With Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Eddie Meador, all-pro safetyman who announced his retirement from the Los Angeles Rams April 21, told Rams Coach George Allen Sunday that he has decided to return to football.

A Ram spokesman said Meador, 33, an 11-year veteran, told Allen he would join the Rams later this week at their Fullerton, Calif., training camp.

With Jackson at third, Orlando Cepeda at first and one out, second baseman Ken Roswell gloved Rico Carty's sinking liner, but then let the ball trickle away. Cepeda froze on the baseline, then headed for second when Boswell recovered and tossed to first baseman Donn Clendenon.

Clendenon threw to second, then, prodded by McAndrew, called for the ball back and finally stepped on first. In the confusion, Jackson tagged up at third and sneaked home.

The umpires ruled that Boswell had made the catch and called Cepeda out at first, but allowed the run because of the "time lapse" between outs. Both managers disputed the decision, to no avail.

Bob Lutz Winner In Buckeye Tennis
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The power and finesse of Bob Lutz of Los Angeles, Calif., proved insurmountable here Sunday as he stroked his way to a four-set victory over Tom Gorman of Seattle, Wash., in the first annual Buckeye Tennis Championships.

Lutz, sixth-ranked in American tennis, took 14th rated Gorman 7-5, 1-6, 6-4 and 6-2 in singles competition.

Cleveland Browns Busy Practicing
GATLINBURG, Tenn. (AP) — An improved Cleveland Browns squad is practicing here this week in preparation for an encounter Saturday night in Memphis with the Kansas City Chiefs.

"We were improved over last week," said Browns Coach Blanton Collier. "We aren't near where we want to be, but we're right-handier Bill Hands gain his 14th victory.

Hal Lanier's run-scoring single snapped a 2-2 deadlock at St. Louis and the Giants added two insurance runs in the seventh. Lanier had beaten the Cards Saturday with a ninth-inning single.

The Expos downed Houston on Bob Bailey's two-run homer in the ninth.

Dave Stockton Ignores 'Army' For PGA Win

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Young Dave Stockton of Westlake, Calif., is the new PGA champion because he believed in a dream and refused to be shaken by an antagonistic Arnie's Army.

"I came here with a positive attitude," the good looking, 28-year-old professional's son said after collecting the $40,000 first prize Sunday and crushing Arnold Palmer's bid for the only major title he hasn't won.

"All week I thought about how I'd play the 18th hole if I came down to it with a two-stroke lead—I really felt it would happen."

Stockton came to the final hole of the 72-hole championship with a three-stroke lead and he played it cool, settling for a bogey five, a closing 73 for a 279 and a two-stroke edge over Palmer and Bob Murphy.

Each of the runners-up collected $18,500. Larry Hinson and Gene Littler were next at 282, collecting $8,800.

For a while it appeared Stockton's tremendous effort might be sabotaged by the raucous, stampeding and disrespectful Arnie's Army. Only Arnie had a chance to beat him.

"Sure I heard them out there," Dave said. "But I didn't let them get me. They only fired me up. I was that much more determined to win."

Stockton played in the final two games with Palmer, who is often embarrassed and apologetic over the wild deportment of his followers.

"I don't blame Arnold," Dave said.

At the seventh hole, with Stockton preparing to hit a wedge from the fairway, a fan was heard to yell loudly.

"Bury it in the sand, Davey."

"Shank it," another screamed.

Stockton sank the short pitch shot for an eagle deuce.

Pesky Mets Nip Atlanta Braves, 2-1

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Chief Knockoutman's war whoops had the New York Mets ears ringing... until Cleon Jones gave the Atlanta medicine man a taste of his own fire-water.

Jones drilled a tie-breaking home run in the sixth inning Sunday as the Mets shrugged off Knockoutman's Indian sign and nipped the Braves 2-1 behind the five-hit pitching of Jim McAndrew.

The victory, coupled with Pittsburgh's 8-6 loss to San Diego, sent the second place Mets within three games of the Pirates in the National League East Division scramble.

It also silenced the Braves' mischievous mascot, who holds fourth in a teepee just beyond the left field fence at Atlanta Stadium and celebrates each home team homer with a triumphant war dance.

In other National League action, Cincinnati defeated Philadelphia 4-2; the Chicago Cubs topped Los Angeles 5-2; San Francisco downed St. Louis 5-2; and Montreal trimmed Houston 5-3.

Knockoutman had no home runs to celebrate over the weekend but he flipped his war-bonnet Saturday night when Jerry Grote's third-strike passed ball and throwing error in the ninth gave the Braves a 3-2 victory over the startled Mets.

When the Braves scored the tying run against McAndrew Sunday on a zany, inning-ending double play, Knockoutman started whooping it up again. But Jones spoiled the fun by opening the sixth with his eighth homer of the season.

McAndrew ended a personal three-game losing string and brought his season record to 7-11 by blanking the Braves after Sonny Jackson scored in the fourth as the Mets completed a slow-motion double play.

Bengals Sign Rick Norton; Set Practice

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — The Cincinnati Bengals battered more than one way by Miami, planned to begin working with a new quarterback today while Greg Cook was scheduled to undergo surgery.

The Bengals of the National Football League signed Rick Norton Sunday after dropping a 20-10 exhibition decision to the Dolphins Saturday night.

The Dolphins cut Norton last week because they felt he had not lived up to their expectations. He starred at the University of Kentucky and won a fat contract with the Dolphins.

"We signed Rick simply as a free agent and no part of his former big salary is involved," Bengals coach Paul Brown said. Brown said that Miami coach Don Shula told him "if we'd started in earlier with Norton he'd have been better off."

Sam Wyche and rookie Dave Lewis shared the quarterbacking responsibilities Saturday night and Brown declared that Lewis "was a bright spot."

Lewis completed eight of 14 passes for 116 yards and helped set up one touchdown. Wyche started the contest and hit on only four of nine passes for 51 yards but he was facing Miami's no. 1 defensive unit most of the time.

Cook, who topped the old American Football League in various passing categories last year — his rookie season, injured the right shoulder during a pick-up basketball game on the off-season and was to undergo surgery today at a Cleveland (Ohio) Clinic.

Eddie Meador Back With Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Eddie Meador, all-pro safetyman who announced his retirement from the Los Angeles Rams April 21, told Rams coach George Allen Sunday that he has decided to return to football.

A Rams spokesman said Meador, 33, an 11-year veteran, told Allen he would join the Rams later this week at their Fullerton, Calif., training camp.

With Jackson at third, Orlando Cepeda at first and one out, second baseman Ken Boswell gloved Rico Carty's sinking liner, but then let the ball trick away. Cepeda froze on the baseline, then headed for second when Boswell recovered and tossed to first baseman Donn Clendenon.

Clendenon threw to second, then, prodded by McAndrew, called for the ball back and finally stepped on first. In the confusion, Jackson tagged up at third and sneaked home.

The umpires ruled that Boswell had made the catch and called Cepeda out at first, but allowed the run because of the "time lapse" between outs. Both managers disputed the decision, to no avail.

Trains Derail At Cleveland; No Injuries

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Derailment of two freight trains belonging to separate railroads here Sunday caused considerable damage, but there were no injuries.

Six of about 100 cars of a Penn Central train derailed on the near West Side and one of the cars swung out across a street, blocking traffic. About 100 feet of track was torn up.

The train was carrying automobiles and panel trucks, but none of them appeared to be damaged.

A train of the Norfolk and Western Railway Co. was involved in the other derailment, near the southeast edge of the city, which ripped up about 150 feet of track.

Three of the train's four diesel locomotives and three of approximately 100 cars jumped the tracks.

Causes of the derailments were not determined.

Hines Ayrshire Nominated For Top Honors

A registered Ayrshire owned by Sheryl Hines, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hines, Ashville, was recently nominated to the All-American Contest by the national Ayrshire Breeder's Association, Brandon, Vermont.

The All-American Award can only be earned by individuals that have won high honors in state, regional and national dairy cattle shows and are from herds on a production testing program.

This, 10th year that the Ayrshire dairy breed association has sponsored the All-American Awards program, 118 Ayrshires were entered and 79 nominations were made from 24 states and the province of Quebec, Canada. The panel of nationally known judges gave the nod to 15 of the tanbark champions for the elite All-American rating.

Hines' entry, Walnut Ayr's III Vicky Lee, a two-year-old cow, was nominated to this national contest.

Ayrshires receiving All-American honors are highly regarded in the dairy world and are very valuable as breeding stock as only a few ever gain this distinction.

In San Francisco, Ladar said Miss Davis was reported to have been a frequent companion of Jonathan Jackson, 17, one of those killed in the shootout at the Marin County Civic Center.

Investigators said Jackson went into Haley's courtroom with a bowling bag full of weapons and interrupted an assault trial by brandishing guns and shouting: "All right, everybody freeze."

Taking the judge and four others in the courtroom as hostages, Jackson and three San Quentin convicts—one on trial for assaulting a guard and two present as witnesses—marched the hostages to a parking lot.

In a gunbattle that erupted as the abductors tried to leave the area in a small van with their hostages, Jackson and two of the convicts, James McClain and William A. Christmas, were killed.

The third convict, Ruchell Magee, and two of the hostages were wounded.

A sawed-off shotgun, which had been taped around the judge's neck in the courtroom and which later was used to kill him, is the one identified as the weapon Miss Davis purchased, Ladar said.

She also has been named as the buyer of two other guns used in the shootings, he added.

nerve gas and several rabbits wallowed through the Atlantic under tow today, headed for a water grave 282 miles east of Cape Kennedy, Fla.

The LeBaron Russell Briggs is scheduled to be scuttled in 16,000 feet of water Tuesday, carrying with her to the bottom 418 steel-jacketed concrete vaults containing more than 12,500 nerve gas rockets.

The way for the controversial disposal of the deadly gas was cleared Sunday when Florida Gov. Claude Kirk and the Environmental Defense Fund said they were abandoning a court fight against the Army's plans to rid itself of the rockets. They claimed the gas represented an extreme danger to the ocean environment.

In a rare Sunday session, the U.S. Court of Appeals in Washington upheld a district court's refusal to grant Kirk and the defense fund an injunction barring the disposal plans. But it said the Briggs must remain in port at Sunny Point, N.C., until 10 a.m. today to give Kirk and the defense fund a chance to carry an appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

The appeals court announced some two hours later, however, that Kirk and the group were quitting the court fight and the Briggs, which originally had been scheduled to get under way Saturday, moved out with a tug supplying the power.

Providing escort were a back-up tug, the destroyer escort Hartley and the Coast Guard cutter Mendotta.

When the convoy reaches the disposal area, a 14-man team of specialists will board the Briggs, checking first the rabbits. They are sensitive to gas, should any of the vaults spring a leak.

The men will install devices to monitor the rate of descent as the Briggs goes to the bottom, remove the rabbits and all salvageable equipment, open valves to let seawater flood the ship, then abandon the Briggs.

Navy Capt. A. G. Hamilton, in charge of sinking the Briggs, estimated it would take 4½ to 5 hours for the World War II freighter to go down.

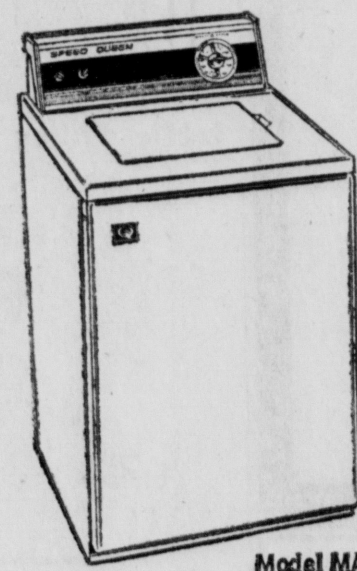

The Mendotta and Hartley will remain at the scene for eight to 12 hours, charting the exact position of the Briggs and examining environmental data and water samples to check against any early leakage of gas.

Action of the directors followed the annual stockholders' meeting held Aug. 10 at the company farm at Rio Grande. It was announced at the meeting that net profit for the first quarter of the fiscal year, ending July 24, was $259,813, or 45 cents a share, an increase over the $174,109, or 30 cents a share, earned in the corresponding period a year ago.

General's Photo Is Snipped Out; Proxmire Attacks

WASHINGTON (AP) — A senator has demanded an official explanation of why 15 airmen armed with 15 razor blades spent a full day cutting 10,000 holes in 10,000 newspapers because "someone didn't like" the way a general's picture was displayed.

When the Aug. 7 edition of the "Talespinner," the base newspaper at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex., was distributed there was an unexplained hole, three columns wide and 2½ inches deep, neatly carved in the center of page 5.

An official spokesman for the base public information office was quoted in a Texas newspaper as saying the space had been occupied by a badly cropped photograph of Maj. Gen. John S. Samuel, Lackland's commander, which was "very inappropriate for a general."

The photograph showed Samuel receiving the Legion of Merit from Lt. Gen. Arthur W. Oberbeck, director of the Air Force's Weapons Systems Evaluation Group. It was cropped narrowly, displaying views of the heads of the two generals and that of Samuel's wife. Oberbeck's three stars could not be seen.

The spokesman explained it was impossible to reprint the page and, "The only avenue open to us was to cut the picture."

He said the general "in no way" influenced the decision and wasn't told about it until after operation razor blade had begun.

Sen. William Proxmire, complaining of the incident in a letter to Secretary of the Air Force Robert C. Seamans Jr., said, "If these facts are accurate, I think this was a violation of freedom of the press and a waste of the taxpayer's money."

In a letter to Proxmire, a Lackland airman told of the incident and said, "The effect, in addition to the depreciation of the base through the distribution of a newspaper containing an unexplained hole, has been the personal embarrassment of the commanding general, the illegal mutilation of 10,000 copies of the base newspaper which is the property of a civilian publisher, and the disillusionment of the information office staff."

Hines Ayrshire Nominated For Top Honors

A registered Ayrshire owned by Sheryl Hines, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hines, Ashville, was recently nominated to the All-American Contest by the national Ayrshire Breeder's Association, Brandon, Vermont.

The All-American Award can only be earned by individuals that have won high honors in state, regional and national dairy cattle shows and are from herds on a production testing program.

This, 10th year that the Ayrshire dairy breed association has sponsored the All-American Awards program, 118 Ayrshires were entered and 79 nominations were made from 24 states and the province of Quebec, Canada. The panel of nationally known judges gave the nod to 15 of the tanbark champions for the elite All-American rating.

Hines' entry, Walnut Ayr's Hii Vicky Lee, a two-year-old cow, was nominated to this national contest.

Ayrshires receiving All-American honors are highly regarded in the dairy world and are very valuable as breeding stock as only a few ever gain this distinction.

In San Francisco, Ladar said Miss Davis was reported to have been a frequent companion of Jonathan Jackson, 17, one of those killed in the shootout at the Marin County Civic Center.

Investigators said Jackson went into Haley's courtroom with a bowling bag full of weapons and interrupted an assault trial by brandishing gun; and shouting: "All right, everybody freeze."

Taking the judge and four others in the courtroom as hostages, Jackson and three San Quentin convicts—one on trial for assaulting a guard and two present as witnesses—marched the hostages to a parking lot.

In a gunbattle that erupted as the abductors tried to leave the area in a small van with their hostages, Jackson and two of the convicts, James McClain and William A. Christmas, were killed.

The third convict, Russell Magee, and two of the hostages were wounded.

A sawed-off shotgun, which had been taped around the judge's neck in the courtroom and which later was used to kill him, is the one identified as the weapon Miss Davis purchased, Ladar said.

She also has been named as the buyer of two other guns used in the shootings, he added.

nerve gas and several rabbits wallowed through the Atlantic under tow today, headed for a watery grave 282 miles east of Cape Kennedy, Fla.

The LeBaron Russell Briggs is scheduled to be scuttled in 16,000 feet of water Tuesday, carrying with her to the bottom 418 steel-jacketed concrete vaults containing more than 12,500 nerve gas rockets.

The way for the controversial disposal of the deadly gas was cleared Sunday when Florida Gov. Claude Kirk and the Environmental Defense Fund said they were abandoning a court fight against the Army's plans to rid itself of the rockets. They claimed the gas represented an extreme danger to the ocean environment.

In a rare Sunday session, the U.S. Court of Appeals in Washington upheld a district court's refusal to grant Kirk and the defense fund an injunction barring the disposal plans.
